

The revelation in the episode of Friday 6 December of Far West, the program hosted by Salvo Sottile on Rai Tre

December 07, 2024

A flight from Rome to London at the request of the Vatican: was Emanuela Orlandi on board that plane? In the Friday, December 6 episode of Far West, the program hosted by Salvo Sottile on Rai Tre, a former employee of the Ministry of Defense speaks for the first time on TV and provides new information on the mystery of the 15-year-old Vatican citizen who disappeared into thin air on June 22, 1983 in Rome. The former secret service agent relaunches the indiscretion of a flight organized at the request of the Vatican to the Italian government a few weeks after the young woman's disappearance. A document is also reported, which bears the signature of none other than the former Archbishop of Canterbury George Carey. Who, reached in London by the correspondent of the program, denies knowing that document and claims to know nothing about Emanuela Orlandi.

Returning to the former Defense employee, the retired Air Force Marshal, 63, was serving in the private secretariat of Minister Giovanni Spadolini at the time of his disappearance and was questioned in October by prosecutor Stefano Luciani. In the interview he talks about a secret service flight requested by the Vatican from the Italian government a few weeks after the disappearance of the papal messenger's fifteen-year-old daughter, for the transfer of two men and two women to London: "We were asked to organize the mission. The request dates back to the end of August/beginning of September 1983 and came from a high-ranking prelate. It was also specified that the VIP entrance to Ciampino airport should be used, through the private airline used by the secret services, Sismi and Sisde, possibly late in the evening to carry out the operation more peacefully".

Request, says the former 007, also supported by a "very well-known, top-level Italian politician". But was Emanuela Orlandi on board that flight? "I don't know that - is the answer - but I provided the magistrate with possible interpretations to get there".
